

Attitude, Skills, and Knowledge
in Oncology Biosimilars

Introducing the ASK webinar series

Register for this webinar series today.

Listen to our faculty discuss successful implementation of biosimilars into clinical practice and why it is important to know this when treating patients with solid tumours.

Taking place throughout November 2021, these webinars will allow you the opportunity to ask your questions to the expert panels.

- Tuesday 16th November
- Wednesday 24th November
- Tuesday 30th November

Free to access

Led by expert faculty

Multi-format education

Scan the QR code or click the link to register

Register today at: ask-biosimilars.com

140 London Wall, EC2Y 5DN | +44(0)20 7214 0500 | contact@ask-biosimilars.com

Adapting to a changing landscape: switching to oncology biosimilars

Tuesday 16th November 17:00–18:00 GMT | 18:00–19:00 CET | 13:00–14:00 AST

Chair

Jatinder Harchowal MBE

University College London Hospitals NHS
Foundation Trust, London, UK

Speaker

Philippe Arnaud

CLOPHARM, Ajaccio, France

Speaker

Glenn Myers

Dr. Sheldon H Rubin Oncology Clinic,
Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada

Empowering patients as part of a successful biosimilar switching strategy

Wednesday 24th November 17:00–17:30 GMT | 18:00–18:30 CET | 13:00–13:30 AST

Chair

Emma Foreman

Royal Marsden Hospital, London, UK

Speaker

María-José Tamés

Onkologikoa Foundation, San Sebastián, Spain

Implementing biosimilars: a case study on pharmacovigilance best practice

Tuesday 30th November 17:00–17:30 GMT | 18:00–18:30 CET | 13:00–13:30 AST

Chair

Glenn Myers

Dr. Sheldon H Rubin Oncology Clinic,
Moncton, New Brunswick, Canada

Speaker

Marta Trojniak

Paediatric Hospital, Trieste, Italy

ASK is a new digital learning platform providing free-to-access education surrounding biosimilars and their role in the treatment of solid tumours.

Register today at:
ask-biosimilars.com

ASK